Entry Level Developer

Swarming Technology is a skilled team of e-commerce development specialists dedicated to providing high quality web solutions to a diverse group of clients. Swarming has become a trusted name in the online retail community for producing thoughtful and high quality results within the e-commerce space.

Swarming is excited to announce a position opening for an entry-level e-commerce developer. This individual is responsible for assisting in the creation and implementation of a variety of web-based e-commerce solutions. This individual will regularly integrate their own work into an existing code base, while maintaining its original philosophy and design. This individual will also implement and extend automation tools relating to data which must be processed and exported from one format and/or medium into another.

Responsibilities:

- Design, code, test, and debug web solutions, primarily for e-commerce platforms
- Document and comment on completed tasks using the provided project management software
- Adhere to standard coding practices established by the team
- Collaborate with teammates on small and large client-based and internal development projects
- Service and respond to continuous development and support tasks for existing clientele
- Participate in and contribute to weekly project meetings and technical groomings
- Actively search for opportunities to enhance professional skills and research new or commonly used technologies and best practices

Required Skills

- Understanding of object oriented programming
- Strong communication
- Collaborative and independent work capacity
- Proactive and self-motivated work temperament

Preferred Skills:

- Basic comprehension of PHP, MySQL, HTML5, Linux, Command Line, SOAP, REST API’s, Javascript, LESS/Sass, HTML/CSS and Javascript
- Experience with e-commerce or CMS platforms
- Preliminary understanding of Git, Apache, LAMP, NGINX, and similar tools
- Familiarity with mobile-responsive development framework
- Familiarity with agile and waterfall development methodologies
- 1-3 years agency experience
1-3 years customer service experience
