

Software Developer

Flight Vector is a software company for the ems market. We create dispatch and mapping software used by ems customers. Please visit our web site at www.flightvector.com to see all that we do.

We are currently looking for an experienced software developer to join our team. We need a highly motivated individual with experience writing code in C++, JavaScript and Python. A detailed knowledge of SQL Server and experience with MFC and Django is needed.

Our developers all work remote so you will not need to drive to the office each day!

If interested, please send a resume to info@flightvector.com.